Brilliant Wedding Reception.

Last Monday the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Gray was the scene of a most brilliant reception in honor of their recent marriage. This home which is one of the many modern and beautiful residences of North Nashville was made more beautiful by the brilliant lights, decorations and handsome furnishings.

The hour for the reception was from 6:30 to 10:30 and the many guests began to arrive at the appointed time and until the last one had departed there were showered upon the happy couple congratulations and wishes of a long happy life.

The bride, who is a charming matron of Nashville was handsomely gowned in a creation of shadow and old point lace with a satin girdle.
Her wealth of hair was encircled in a train of pearls. The guests were received by Miss Madeline Dunlap, daughter of the bride, who in a pink messaline was a picture of virginal loveliness. Receiving with Mrs.
Gray were Mesdames Lizzie James, Josie Henderson, and Miss Mary Reed. The guest register was kept by Miss Mintie Toney and more than one hundred guests were registered.

The North Nashville Brass Band, of which Mr. Gray is originator and leader furnished music for the occasion.

N. N. Y. P. L. C.

The Literary Club met last Wednesday evening with a splendid gathering and listened to interesting discourses, having as speakers Dr. T. W.
Stephens, Prof. Hayes Cole and Reynolds. Dr. Stephens used as a subject, "Who Will Turn the Black Calf Alonso?" He showed the chained condition of the Negro and the Negro himself to a certain extent helping to keep the Negro chained, and too, that the Negro was chained from infancy.
He also spoke of the compulsory laws of the public schools. The great remarks of Dr. Stephens, Prof. Cole and Prof. Reynolds were quite inspiring to the club and they adjourned feeling that they were intellectually benefited. After the meeting a reception was tender the guests, being served by Misses Kelly, Stratton, McKnight, Anderson, Powell and McTye. Those seated around the table as honorary guests were: Dr. T. W. Stephens, Jas.

THIRD WARD CIVIC CLUB ORGAN- IZATION.

Last Friday night the Third Ward Civic Club was organized and the officers were elected and the club starts out under most flattering prospects.
The largest crowd that has ever assembled for a like purpose was on hand.

The first matter to come up was a clause in the report of the committee on platform that referred to the liquor traffic. D. A. Hart, a member of the committee, moved that the clause be stricken out. He prefaced his motion with the statement that for the sake of harmony it seemed best that the matter be dropped, and that doing so would not alter the opinion of any voter. He said he did not favor a compromise on a question so vital, but he finally yielded to hear a substitute by Councilman S. P. Harris, who was chairman of the committee that drafted the original clause.
The substitute called for local option and segregation. But the club was strongly in favor of the original clause as it was first submitted by Chairman Harris and adopted by the same the second time, thereby assuring Mr. Harris and the committee that the club intended to stand together.

The following officers were elected:
J. W. Grant, president; S. H. Johnson, vice president; A. G. Price, secretary; Dr. J. B. Singleton, treasurer. These and Councilman S. P. Harris, I. L.
Moore and Rev. T. W. Stephens constitute the executive committee. The meeting adjourned to meet tonight at 8 o'clock.

In Memory of Mrs. Fannie B. Lucas

The Golden Key that unlocks the palace to eternity has turned, and the soul of Mrs. Fannie B. Lucas passed to its God last Saturday morning at August 9, 1913, at 1 o'clock. When the last moment came there were watching at her bedside her three daughters and friends of the family.
Death came to her only as a liberator from this world of cares to enter into the joy of heaven for which she has been preparing for a long number of years. Her life was lovable and manners so pleasing that we cannot think of her as dead. She is not dead; the world only borrowed her for a while, and God has simply sent the reaper for his own. We can only think of her waiting beyond the river for us who are on this side, to cross over and join the innumerable host of heaven and God. Mrs. Lucas was a lovable woman. She had that motherly and sweetness of temper, and gentleness of spirit that makes all characters lovable. Her home was made a shelter for many young men and women of all denominations from other towns and cities who have made temporary homes in the city of Nashville. They who were once with her never forgot her; and though absent from the city for many years, when one chanced to return, he would make it a point to see Mrs. Lucas.

Her funeral was held from the St.
John's A. M. E. Church, of which she was a member, Sunday afternoon. The pastor, Rev. Mr. Porter, said that the request of the deceased was that her funeral services be short and simple. He endeavored to carry out her wishes in a short but masterly oration. He dealt largely with her noble Christian character, the long life she had given to God while here on earth, and urged upon those who are not yet Christians to give their lives to God while life is young.

Short talks were made by Rev. Preston Taylor and Bishop Evans Tyree, who closed with the congregation singing "There is rest for the weary." The funeral was largely attended by members of St. John and other churches of the city who are well acquainted with the family, and who came to show sympathy and pay the last respect to all that remained mortal of Mrs. Lucas. Letters of sympathy were also received from Washington, D. C.; Louisville, Ky.; Chat-anooga and Brownsville, Tenn.

The floral designs were beautiful and numerous, being given by Mr. and Mrs. L. Blum, Mrs. Sarah E.
Ferguson, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Rogers, Louisville, Ky.; Mrs. J. C. Napier, Mr. M. Cady, Mrs. Anderson and family, Baby Nona Work, officers and members of the Golden Leaf Club, Mesdames Tommie Miller, Robert Abernathy, Laura Marshall, Harriet Campbell, Lucy Harwell, Miss Mary

K. Hill, Messrs. C. T. Hume, R. C.
Patton, C. T. Harwell, A. W. Webb, Fred J. Ewing, P. S. Purse and a beautiful design by the family. The body was laid to rest in Mt. Ararat Cemetery.

CARD OF HANKS.

We, the daughters of Mrs. Fannie Lucas, wish to thank our many friends for their deeds of kindness and words of sympathy in our hour of your medicine.

I cannot speak too highly of it and of its results. I never used it myself but bought 4 bottles of you to give to different parties and the re-

Surprise Party.

A number of friends entertained with a surprise party Tuesday night, August 5th, at the residence of Miss Mamie L. Wells in honor of Miss Ida M. Patterson, who left for Louisville, Ky., her future home, Wednesday morning. An interesting program was rendered, which was as follows: Instrumental solo, Miss Maggie Fosworth; vocal solo, "The Rosary," Miss Wells, after which the G. G. T. Club, of which Miss Patterson is ex-president, presented her with a pin with the club initials engraved on it as a token of their appreciation of her faithful services as president.

In Honor of Miss Blanche Randals, of Nashville, Tenn.

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 14.—One of the swellest social affairs of the season in Chicago was a whist party given by Mrs. Willie Cooper Trabue at her residence on Monroe avenue (Hyde Park) Friday evening, in honor of Miss Blanche B. Randals, one of Nashville's popular city school teachers. There were twenty-four present and all spent a very enjoyable evening. Mr. and Mrs. Trabue were assisted in entertaining their guests by their little daughter, Gaillard Helena Trabue.
